

Fisha 500

The Fisha 500 is the latest upgrade of our older Evo 495 kayak. Realising we needed to upgrade our Evolution 495 we decided to incorporate many of the strong features from the Pro fisha range in the new design.

Without compromising certain features of the Evo that make it unique. The Fisha range is truly about maximum stability before speed. Unlike the Pro fishas where we targeted performance and speed and then gave them as much stability as possible with the Fisha range we gave the kayak the best stability followed by as best possible performance we could give it.

The Fisha 500 incorporates the latest hi tech materials with a construction very similar to our Pro fisha range. The kayak is built using specialised core materials and epoxy based resin systems. The process of resin infusion is used to keep the build consistent not only in quality but also in finished weight.

The focus on this kayak was to give it maximum stability within its design so the position on the widest point of the kayak and the depth of the seat and foot-wells were placed so as to make it very comfortable with loads of stability and performance.
